TRUDY PELLETIER FEA, CEC

Licensed Facilitator and Trainer

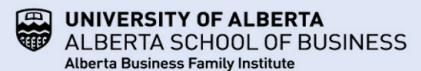

Communication can resolve anything.
The problem is we stop talking.

Trudy Pelletier specializes in facilitating difficult conversations at work. Her skills are sought after by leaders interested in optimizing people and performance.

She helps organizations navigate highly charged issues and recurring challenges. Recently, that includes changes to organizational culture following the #MeToo movement, and emerging discussions of gender parity in leadership.

Trudy is a trainer and facilitator with a deep sales background. She is a mediator, Certified Executive Coach and designated family enterprise advisor who draws on decades of experience to connect and cultivate understanding, bringing the difficult issues from the background into the foreground. She is also licensed in Empowering Women and Empowering Men, material now relevant for all genders.

SPEAKING TOPICS

Empower your audience to be more, do more and have more. Trudy brings the “wow” factor with a unique delivery that causes a shift in thinking and new actions.
